on the theory that the disease is due to a germ.

Of the twenty-eight cases at the Deformities Hospital all but one came from Russia. Two cases are in hospital wards, but the others have reached the stage where it is possible for the patients to live at home and go to the hospital only for treatment. Of the latter several had their legs amputated before later treatment was adopted at before later treatment was adopted at the hospital, and who suffer pains in the limb stumps through an early spread of the disease beyond the point of am-putation.

The treatment used here is the injection two or three times a week of ten ounces of saline solution, under the skin. This relieves the pressure in the ar-teries and permits the blood to resume its natural course.

"It will take time to show whether this treatment will cure, or whether it only refleves," a physician at the hospital said. "but all the cases have improved remarkably under the treatment, and several have already been dismissed with, apparently, no sign of the disease remaining.

"The important thing to combat the focthold the disease seems to be gaining in this country is not treatment so much as education regarding symptoms of the disease. The victim first netices pains in his feet, which he is likely to attribute to any one of a dozen erroneous causes. He is apt to wear arch supports or otherwise try to remedy the condition, and its owners.

After a while, in many cases, the foot turns purple, due to the corposition of blood, and the victim cannot move his foot without great pain. While there are other derrangements that give somewhat similar symptoms, there is a final symptom that makes the diagnosis of endarteritis chiligrans simple and carry darteritis chilterans simple and sure.
That is when the dersal pulse is absent, and a physician by feeling the arteries of the foot, discovers that the flow of blood has ceased."

The disease is somewhat similar to sanila gengrage but the latter is senile gangrene, but the latter is found only in old age, while endar-teritis oblitzrans makes its appear-ance in middle age.

BROOKLYN INVENTOR HAS LIFE SAVING SUIT

Says Garb Would Have Saved tender with an evil face had served

NEW YORK, July 27 .- A Brooklynite has invented and patented a life-saving device which, he says, would have prevented the great loss of life among Titanic and Lusitania passengers, bad those vesse's been equipped with it The inventor is Thomas Matthews his device is a waterproof suit, provided with a cork belt, which, at the same time it keeps one affoat, conflues the heat of the body, preventing the fatal chill which caused the death of so many of the Titanic's passengers. Mr. Matthews' invention looks, very much like the one-piece garments in which small children are put to led, and consists of an inner layer of mineral wool, with an outer layer of rub-berized cloth. The sult is donned by means of an opening in the chest, which has a watertight flap, and may be laced tightly up to the neck. The curfs have elastic bands that f.t tightly about the wrists. A hat, sewed on to the back of the suit, fits tightly over the head and chin, making the suit as nearly waterproof as anything can be. A cork belt, attached to the back of the suit, supports the person in the water, and eral wool, with an outer layer of rubsupports the person in the water, and as one may wear clothes under the suit, the body keeps warm. The weight of the suit alone is about seven ounces; Marv. with the cork belt it weighs sixteen Mrs.

beauty of that suit," explained Mr. Matthews, 'is that it keeps you warm while you are in the water. Most of those on the Titanic and Lusitania would be alive today if they'd had had these things. Why, supposing you found yourself thirty or forty miles at sea, you could paddle ashore in a couple of days, and that's why we put pockets into the suits—so's you can put something to eat in them.

"The suit can be used for other things as well." continued the inventor. "If you're going on a fishing trip, or a hunting trip, where you'll be out in frail boats, these things will come in mighty handy.

"I believe you," said Mrs. Gunsdorf. "But cover that thing up. You don't want anybody in Bitumen to know you've got that." "If I lost it."said Mary, "and the right person found it, I wouldn't care." She spoke in a cold, deflant sort of way, and then fastened her dress once more over the necklace.

"You think," said Mrs. Gunsdorf. "You think," said Mrs. Gunsdorf. "That if it wasn't for her—you'd stand a chance."

"Don't you feel a little that way too."

LOST FORTY POUNDS; ELATED, GIVES PARTY Served Food She Used In Treatment and Guests Fall Off Also. GLENDALE, Cal., July 27.—In honor of her birthday anniversary and because she had succeeded in losing forty Cause she had succeeded in losing forty pounds as the result of a strict dieting system. Mrs. Mattle Wood served a dinner to seventy-five of her friends recently, the dinner being arranged on the scale of calories.

Each guest drew a number, corresponding to a certain dish on the table. Each dish measures exactly 100 calories. Consequently, some of the guests drew half a dozen beans, some a diminutive piece of the others a hurst transfer.

piece of pie, others a huge tray of lettuce.

The meal was a replica of those which Mrs. Wood was allowed when on to take off superflous avoirdupois.

Some of the guests were seen hurrying around to the restaurants and ice cream parlors when the party broke up, and all admit that they lost weight.

The Safest Investments Are those that do not fluctuate during dis-turbed conditions of the money or stock mar-kets. First deed of trust notes (first mort-gages), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt-edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility or individuals or cor-porations for their stability, and are exempt from taxaton as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet "Concerning Loans and Investments."
